FRANKENSTEIN

By Mary Shelley, adapted for radio by Antony Ellis (06/07/1955)

Characters
 DR. VICTOR FRANKENSTEIN FRANKENSTEIN'S MONSTER
 HENRY (Victor's friend) ELIZABETH (Victor's cousin & girlfriend)

Setting: Henry's house, on the back porch, late in the evening
From this scene, Dr. Frankenstein created a monster. When the monster starts destroying things and killing people, Dr. Frankenstein runs away to England, hoping to leave the evil monster behind him.

ELIZABETH (concerning Victor's Victor)
 VICTOR: We're not here, Beth.
 ELIZABETH: Oh, I've just had a horrible experience. Darling, I'm so glad to see you!
 VICTOR: You're pale, Beth. Sit down right here next to me.
 HENRY: Oh, what happened, Beth?
 ELIZABETH: I saw... I was walking in the woods not far from here when I looked up and saw... and saw a man... out of a man standing over me.
 HENRY: Well, man wasn't in bed, that is if you happen to know the right ones, and you do.
 ELIZABETH: I'm not judging, Henry. He was not exactly a man. He was twice the height of anyone I'd ever seen. And his skin looked like dried parchment. It's incredible, but I think I've seen a monster.
 HENRY: Monster?
 ELIZABETH: Yes, I... I ran away. He didn't follow me, just, just stared after me. Watching me. You do believe me, don't you?
 HENRY: A monster stared after you?
 ELIZABETH: Oh, look, look! Henry, Victor, through the trees right out there! Look! There he is again!

(Exit Henry)
 VICTOR: (astonished) Yes, the monster stood there, glared at me from the trees. The monster which had created, moulded like an evil blue of flesh and blood, stood in the darkness

How to write the script for a video. How to write a script template. How to write a script for a video example.

SFX: short for sound effects ... and used in the right column with audio elements. Adjectives like these can be useful when they describe the tone for which it addresses you. A contour model here acts as an approximate version of the real thing so that the director and the crew of him can have a fair idea of what would be the thing would seem and how the story would be fluid when the movie would have been done. Another purpose of the script. It is to offer the possibility of making improvements or changes in the entire script before starting the arrangement or final shot.> What are the advantages of the word of the script model? The main advantage of the script word is to introduce yourself a contour of the outline of the movie or video you are about to do. Many TV ads therefore follow the good and simple approach of the history of the problem or the point and the solution of pain: describe a problem that the spectators have and outline the discomfort associated with it, then provide the solution and describe the advantages of it. Trusted by 150,000+ creative. A TV ad separates audio and visual to give a more precise sense of times. Large brands have already an existing tag that could replace the CTA, but the call to action depends on the potential customers of the reference market. Length: The total runtime (TRT) of the commercial television in seconds, commonly 15, 30, 60 or 90 seconds.
